

HIGHEST QUALITY ALCOHOLIC AND NON-ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES PRODUCER

Baltic states, also known as simply the Baltics, consist of three Northern Europe countries – Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia, the development of which is strongly influenced by the well-developed Scandinavian and Western European countries.

Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia became independent in 1990 – 1991 and do not form an official union; they all have their own languages (Lithuanian, Latvian and Estonian), capitals (Vilnius, Riga and Tallinn) and national identities. Though each individual country is considered rather small in the global context, the combined territory of the Baltic states amounts to 175 015 sq. km. with the population of around 6 million.

All three countries are members of the European Union and NATO.

“Royal Unibrew Baltics” consist of three companies: “Kalnapilio – Tauro grupė” in Lithuania, “Cido grupa” in Latvia and “Royal Unibrew Eesti” in Estonia. We are an ultimate Baltic multi-beverages company, which is winning competition through operating respectfully, innovating significantly and always being agile.

LITHUANIA

Lithuania, officially the Republic of Lithuania is the biggest of all Baltic states with the population of 2,9 million. Lithuania, like Latvia also has a magical coastline with white sand dunes blown by the wind and beaches formed by its stunning nature. Surrounded by the green land, lakes and rivers, every place in Lithuania has something valuable to offer. From colourful cities full of history and small villages with preserved traditions to refreshing mineral water springs and regional parks – Lithuania is real, therefore beautiful.

Being on the UNESCO World heritage list, Vilnius, the capital of Lithuania is considered one of the most charming in Europe. It has attracted various nations, styles and religions, which helped it become Lithuania’s cultural centre.

LATVIA

Latvia is a gorgeous country and a middle sister of other two Baltic states with its 1,9 million inhabitants. Blessed with hundreds of kilometres of white sand coastline, countless rivers and lakes, Latvia has a breath-taking landscape and truly preserved natural beauty. Most of the country’s territory is covered by forests and half of the country is made up of largely untouched natural ecosystems. In the meantime, the untouched landscape peacefully coexists with lively Latvian cities and rich culture.

With its strategic position, Riga, the capital of Latvia, has historically been a hub for trade and commerce not only of local, but also of international importance. The city prides itself as the industrial, commercial, cultural and financial centre of the Baltics.

ESTONIA

Estonia, officially the Republic of Estonia is the smallest of Baltic states with 1,3 million people living in the country. Estonia, too, shares the alluring Baltic Sea coastline with Latvia and Lithuania, but that is only one of many fascinating qualities Estonia has. It is a country of thousands of lakes with almost half of its territory covered with mixed forests – a home for many beautiful native species of trees and shrubs. People in Estonia can enjoy spacious environments and countless quantities of fresh air that is usually considered a luxury in today’s world. This authentic country stands out of the other Baltic states with its islands that are filled with rare charm and ancient history. Offering a sustainable way of life, authentic setting and tranquillity, the West Estonian Archipelago has been a part of UNESCO Man and Biosphere reserve.

Tallinn, the capital of Estonia, has an Old Town that is one of the best-preserved medieval cities in Europe. Welcoming a variety of people, events and innovations, Tallinn is a major political, financial, cultural and educational centre of Estonia.

From legendary Brewers' land

Lithuanian brewing tradition dates back to the 11th century and it reached its peak at the end of the 19th century - early 20th. Ričardas Barakūnas,
Kalnapilis brewmaster

I have been working as a head brewmaster and sommelier in Kalnapilis brewery for 18 years now.

Beer is as old as mankind with its many various subtleties, therefore it took long years of consistent learning in Lithuania as well as abroad for me to finally become a professional of this field. I started studying at Kaunas Technology University, the College of Chemistry and then continued the brewer studies in Belgium. While I was a student, I discovered a job ad for a brewmaster position in Kalnapilis brewery. I was already very interested in the process of making beer, so I decided to come to Panevėžys and apply for that job. After a year of working in Kalnapilis brewery, I went to Scandinavian School of Brewing in Copenhagen to gain more international experience. Currently I am working as a lector in this school and I'm glad to have the opportunity to share my experience and secrets of this art with others.

Beer making and sommelier expertise, which I received in The Beer Academy of London, have always helped and supplemented each other. The sommelier experience allows me to search for new flavours and think not only about the result when creating beer recipes, but also about food combinations and what will go well with that particular beer. The inseparable part of brewer job is creating new beer types. I constantly experiment and try new flavours and combinations. It takes a long time to create a new beer type – sometimes more than a year.

Vilkmergės VYŠNIŲ KRIEK

The first Lithuanian Cherry Kriek is characterised by its rich cherry aroma, colour as well as sweet and sour flavour.

Kriek beer type has originated in Belgium, Brussels, and today comes back to life with Vilkmergės. First, brewmasters brew upper fermentation beer – light ale. Then, they add cherry juice and brew it up to the point when it turns into a light and subtle ale with berry aroma. That is exactly what Vilkmergės Cherry Kriek is. This ale is perfect with chocolate, chocolate desserts, cheesecake.

Vilkmergės KVIETINIS

Cloudy, almost white-coloured wheat beer with citrus aroma and gourmet flavour.

This unfiltered ale is noted for its creamy texture. It contains natural yeast sediment, so before pouring the beer into a glass stir the bottle up a bit for the yeast to rise. There is no need to add citrus or other fruit. This wheat beer goes perfectly with sophisticated or simple dishes that do not overwhelm the wheat taste. This beer is a gourmet choice for a filling lunch or a slow dinner.

Sweetish Vilkmergės wheat beer is great with both soft and hard cheeses. It also pairs well with grilled, steamed or raw seafood and various salads.

Vilkmergės LENGVAS ELIS

This beer has the lightest taste in Vilkmergės selection. However, its taste is still very colourful and has a distinctive character. Golden amber-coloured with sweetish bread aroma, this slightly bitter beer has a very rich bready aftertaste.

This beer pairs beautifully with light salads, various poultry dishes or snacks. Also, give it a try while enjoying exotic seafood or Oriental cuisine.

Vilkmergės TAMSUSIS

Dark amber-coloured, exceptionally rich-flavoured, yet harmonious dark ale.

We use four types of malt to create our dark beer: Lithuanian light barley malt and three types of caramel barley malt. Caramel malt creates barely perceptible coffee aroma and flavouring. It also gives our beer light caramel aftertaste and a powerful flavour that characterizes dark beer. This beer pairs well with game meat and other dark meat dishes prepared on fire or grill. Vilkmergės dark ale also pairs well with aromatic rich-tasting mushroom and potato dishes, chocolate cakes and other sweet desserts.

Vilkmergės JUODŲJŲ SERBENTŲ STOUT

Born in London, Blackcurrant Stout captivated beer lovers due to its exclusive appearance and one-of-a-kind flavour of burnt malt and blackcurrant berries.

Vilkmergės Blackcurrant Stout – a sweetish, intensive, black-coloured beer with fresh blackcurrant aroma, burnt malt and berry aftertaste. This is the first Lithuanian blackcurrant stout. Vilkmergės Blackcurrant Stout goes well with brie or goat cheese, Mascarpone canapés and cheesecakes. Vilkmergės Blackcurrant Stout is also a great addition to fresh blackberry or strawberry cakes.

Vilkmergės CRAFT SIDRAS

Vilkmergės brewmasters have accepted a new challenge! They made it all the way to England – the proclaimed homeland of cider – to absorb the century-old traditions of cider making. That is how new rich-tasting and aromatic Vilkmergės Craft Sidras was born.

Subtle tannin aftertaste and expressive apple aroma makes it even more distinctive. Brewed from ripe and carefully selected apples, Vilkmergės Craft Sidras is a semi-dry cider matured here in Lithuania. This cider pairs well with meat dishes, especially with sweet and sour or fried pork, or crispy chicken. It is also a great addition to Cheddar and blue cheeses, and apple pie.
